

26 Model Spring Campus Clothes

• STUDENT MODELS—both male and female—will spotlight the 1956 Fashion Show to be held tomorrow evening in Lisner Auditorium.

A half-hour concert by the University Band will precede the show. The fashion show itself will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

A special feature of the evening will be 1890 bathing suits, modeled by Kyra Mosel, Terry Root, Suzanne Smith, Walter Jaenicki and Bernie Passeltiner.

The rest of the 26 models will display more recent styles. Ladies' fashions, furnished by the Casual Corner, will be modeled by Bonnie Borden, Carolyn Cowdin, Carol Hollet, Sue Kadel, Cece Le Sturgeon, Catherine Gudin-Levkovich, Kyra Mosel, Pat O'Neal, Peggy Nichols, Terry Root, Doris Rosenberg, Liz Shea, Suzanne Smith and Sue Steinberg.

Men

The men's fashions will be modeled by Norman Cohen, Dick Giesler, Bob Gray, Joe Hince, Walter Jaenicki, Laurie Locke, Skip Maraney, Jack McManus, Jerry Osborne, Bernie Passeltiner, Ed Turco and Stan Walawac. The Mode will supply the men's clothes.

Mrs. Joan Brown, free lance fashion coordinator, will emcee the show, giving a running commentary on the fashions as they are presented to the audience. Music for the show will be provided by Jo Ann Levinson at the piano. Miss Levinson is a university senior in education.

Tickets for the show are free to Combo holders, and 50c to all others. Combo holders must present their Combo in order to receive tickets, which will be on sale in the Union lobby from 12 to 1 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. today and tomorrow. Tickets will also be sold at Lisner the night of the performance.

Miss Wolin said this will be the first time the University has had a fashion show featuring both men's and women's styles, and using only student models.

Models On TV

• FIVE MODELS FROM the Fashion Show to be held tomorrow will appear on the "Afternoon with Inga" T.V. show this afternoon at 2:30. Appearing in the old fashioned bathing suits will be Kyra Mosel, Terry Root, Suzanne Smith, Walter Jaenicki and Bernie Passeltiner.

Dr. Thomas M. Peery, University Professor of Pathology and director of post-graduate instruction will discuss the Associate in Science degree on the radio program "Capital Byline with Patti Cavin," Thursday at 1:15 p.m.

Society Reinstates International Night

• THE CORONATION of an international queen and a parade of many nations will highlight International Night in Lisner Auditorium Friday at 8:30 p.m.

His Excellency Don Manuel Tello, Mexican Ambassador to the United States, will crown the queen, chosen from three Bau, Lillian Rossi and Ramin Sepahpour.

The nations parade will feature fifty University girls dressed in the costumes of their native countries. Representatives from the embassies of ten countries will present short skits. Included in the program will be a group of Scottish dancers of the St. Andrew's Society of Washington.

Spanish Dance

Among the other acts will be the "Bulerias Gitanas," a Spanish dance; the "Tamborito," a dance from Panama, and other dances from Indonesia, Brazil, Colombia and the Philippines. Participants from India will sing and the Swiss will give a flag swinging demonstration. The University's Dance Production Group will present American folk songs and dances.

The event, an annual affair before the war, is now being revived, said Demetre Argyropoulos, president of the International Students' Society. The society, with the Student Council, is sponsoring the show, a part of the Colonial Program series.

Admission

Admission to the show is free. International night committee members are Huda Bakr, Reina Gru, Frances Haines, Mary Hoffman, Deborah Holmes, George Rampirez, Lillian Rossi, Tony Saiz and Paul Spargnapani. Director of the show is Al Justice.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT CLOYD H. MARVIN HOODS DR. LEONARD CARMICHAEL, ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTOR OF THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE DURING CONVOCATION CEREMONIES.

Debaters Meet Harvard In Match

• A FOUR-MAN DEBATE team will represent the University at the Harvard University Invitational Tournament this week-end in Cambridge, Mass.

Twenty universities will compete in the tournament, debating the topic: "Resolved: that non-agricultural industries of the United States should guarantee their employees an annual wage."

This year's University debate teams have won victories in the Pittsburgh and New York University Invitational Tournaments and the Temple University Novice Tournament, and have tied in the Johns Hopkins Invitational Tournament.

Future debates are scheduled with Georgetown, West Point and Brooklyn College.

The debaters are coached by associate professors of speech George F. Henigan and Edwin L. Stevens.

The University debate team is the only group which has twice won the Boston University and the Georgetown University Invitational Tournaments.

Law Day

• THE SECOND ANNUAL Law Day is being held this Saturday. The topic of the Van Vleet Case Club to be argued by University Law School finalists is "Spendthrift Trust Problem Case." Noted jurists, members of the school administration and students will participate in the day's program. See story page 2.

June Graduates

• STUDENTS WHO EXPECT to graduate in June, 1956, must file graduation application for graduation in the office of the registrar before April 1.

Judges Pick New 'Apollo'

by Frances Bran

• TWENTY CANDIDATES will vie for the coveted title of the "Manliest Man on the University Campus" Saturday night at the tenth annual Hillel Ball of Fire.

Nominees in the Apollo contest will be judged on the basis of looks, physique, personality and manliness.

Prexy Speaks At Exercises

• UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT Cloyd H. Marvin, speaking to members of the winter graduating class in Lisner Auditorium February 22, advised "reach out to secure the veracities of men's thinking."

President Marvin also told the 355 graduates to remember that although "all of man's activities bear the stamp of his weaknesses, his weaknesses are less than his strengths."

Receiving honorary degrees at the convocation were Dr. Leonard Carmichael, administrative director of the Smithsonian Institution; Clarence Aiken Aspinwall, board chairman of the Security Storage Company; Major General Ulisses S. Grant, III, U. S. A., retired; Alfred Henry Lawson, board vice chairman of the Riggs National Bank, and Dr. Bumpel Kure, president of Nihon University, Tokyo, Japan.

Dr. Carmichael received an honorary doctor of science degree, while Mr. Aspinwall, Maj. Gen. Grant, Mr. Lawson and Dr. Kure were given doctor of laws degrees.

Formal Introduction

• THE AIR FORCE R.O.T.C. will formally introduce the Angel Flight to the University tomorrow afternoon at 1 p.m. in brief ceremonies at the Lincoln Memorial.

Late Flash!

• THE WINNERS OF the Winter Weekend house decorations contest are Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Kappa. S.A.E. was judged winner for inside house decorations and Sigma Kappa for outside decorations.

Council Takes Petitions Now

• THE STUDENT Council is accepting petitions for next year's Campus Combo Chairman. The deadline for application is Friday, March 3.

The Campus Combo chairman oversees and coordinates all the activities under the Combo which will include Homecoming, Winter Weekend, Colonial Cruise, three drama productions and one dance production. The Cherry Tree will not be included in next year's Combo.

The Council selected Jerry Reinsdorf, last Thursday, as Council Advocate for the remainder of the spring term.

Charles Bechtel was named School of Government Representative to fill the unexpired term of Tore Hauge, a February graduate.

The Advocate's main duty is to supervise the May Student Council elections. He also acts as Council legal adviser and will publicize the elections in order to increase the vote.

Strong Hall Holds Big Annual Party

• STRONG HALL WILL hold its annual open house Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m.

"The open house gives the male student his once-a-year glimpse into the potpourri of a women's room," said Sandy Myers, retiring Dorm Council president.

A by-invitation-only event, the open house will feature judging for the "most attractive and collegiate room."

Judges in the room decoration contest will be Miss Beatrice McBride, nurse-secretary in the University health administration; Mrs. John Romani, secretary in the office of the director of women's activities, and Dr. David G. White, assistant professor of chemistry.

Joan Elso, newly elected president of the Strong Hall Council, and Tessie Tsangaris, newly chosen treasurer, will be introduced to the guests.

Chairman of the open house is council social chairman Nancy Wilson. Betty Barrett is in charge of publicity; DeAnn Borup, clean-up, and Miss Tsangaris, refreshments.

Pre-Meds

• PRE-MEDICAL STUDENTS planning to enter medical college in the fall of the school year 1957-58 must take the Medical College Admission Test, May 5.

Dean George M. Koehl urges students to submit their applications and to complete registration before the deadline, April 21.

No applicants will be guaranteed acceptance after this date.

Hatchet Makes Clear Grant Article Errors

• THE HATCHET WISHES to clarify the Medical School grant story printed last week.

The article stated "The money (granted to the University School of Medicine) is part of a total of over a million dollars that the Fund has granted to the Medical School since 1951." The figure should have read $117,149.

The article also stated "The purpose of the Fund is to make money available to medical schools throughout the nation so they will not have to receive aid from the Federal Government, thereby possibly making themselves subject to Federal controls." This may be inappropriate since legislation is now before Congress which would grant substantial monies to medical schools for construction and expansion of research activities. This legislation has the endorsement of both the American Medical Association and the Associates of American Medical Colleges.

The purpose of the National Fund for Medical Education is to raise, disperse and administer funds and foster the following objectives:

A. The interpretation of the needs of medical education to the American public.

B. Encouragement of better standards and methods in training of medical manpower.

C. The presentation of academic freedom in institutions of medical education and aiding these schools in offering equal opportunity to all qualified persons.

School Starts Annual Series

• THE UNIVERSITY School of Medicine will present the first of the 11th annual series of Kellogg Lectures in Medicine in Hall A of the Medical School tonight at 8:30.

The lecturer will be Dr. Wilhelm J. Kolff of Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Ohio. Presiding officer for the evening will be Dr. Brian B. Blades, Professor of Surgery and head of the University Hospital's Department of Surgery.

Physicians and medical students are invited to attend the lecture entitled "Treatment of Uremia in Surgical Patients; with special reference to the use of the artificial kidney."

Draft

• STUDENTS INTERESTED in taking the Selective Service College Qualification Test have until midnight, Monday March 5, to submit applications. Director of Admissions Harold G. Sutton, announced recently.

A student must intend to request student deferment to be eligible to apply for the test given April 19 to college.

Doctor Receives Medical Award

• THE UNIVERSITY MEDICAL Society held its thirtieth annual alumni reunion and banquet Saturday night in the Terrace room of the Shoreham Hotel and selected a member to receive their 1956 Award of Merit.

The award, based upon the candidate's scientific and academic achievements and his service to the community, was presented to Dr. Donald Stubbs, a Washington anesthesiologist, University alumnus, and president of the Medical Service of the District of Columbia.

The award was accepted by Peggy Ann Stubbs, 18-year-old sophomore pre-medical student at the University, in her father's absence.

Speaker of the evening was another University alumnus, Dr. Harry F. Dowling, formerly a member of the medical faculty.

Dr. Dowling is now professor of medicine and head of the department of medicine at the University of Illinois.

The Westinghouse Man With The Facts will be here on March 1

Ask your placement officer for an appointment NOW!

You'll soon have to make that crucial decision . . . where to start your career. But, before you decide, you owe it to yourself to talk with the Westinghouse Man With The Facts. He'll be here on campus on the above date to interview engineering graduates. Be sure to get on his schedule. He wants to talk with Electrical, Mechanical, Chemical or Industrial Engineers, Physicists, Mathematicians and Metallurgists. Ask him about career opportunities at Westinghouse . . . the million-dollar Education Center with its complete training program . . . how you can select a career in an industry of your choice, doing the kind of work you prefer . . . Master's and Ph.D. degrees at company cost . . . chances for advancement . . . how other men made fast progress. He can tell you . . . he has the facts.

You'll want to know, too, about the big Westinghouse expansion program, and how it offers you exciting opportunities for growth. And, about interesting and rewarding work in such promising new fields as nuclear energy, automation, decision devices, semiconductors, military and industrial electronics. There's plenty of room to move around . . . and up . . . at Westinghouse.

A frank talk with him will help you make a sound decision. So, contact your Placement Officer now and have him make a date for you with the Westinghouse Man With The Facts.

Organizations Give Skits, Get New Members at Fair, Friday

by Kitty Maddock

• FOILS AND SABERS wielded by the University Fencing Club kicked off the annual Activities Fair skits last Friday night in Lisner Lounge.

Betty Kolonia and Ruth Reagan, accompanied by Tony Ketcham, rendered "Bermuda" for the Glee Club and Dance Production was represented by spritely students in a variety of dances. Members of the HATCHET staff applied a Damon Runyon interpretation to "legitimate" advertisements.

Drama Production presented a scene from their up-coming play, "All My Sons," and Cheerleaders, Chemistry Club, Debate, Sailing Club, and Women's Athletic Association, also presented short skits.

Welcome

Beverly Borden, director, opened the show with a welcome to the audience and introduced Mickey Croce, the evening's master of ceremonies. Following the skits, the audience circulated through the Dimmock Room, where they asked questions of both representatives about the varying aspects of each activity, and in many cases signed up. Other activities sponsoring booths were Big Sisters, Old Men, Colonial Boosters, Future Teachers of America, Home Economics Club, International Relations Club, International Students Society, and the Religious Council.

The Activities Fair is an annual event, designed to give all students an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the variety of activities on campus.

Dance

The audience was invited to a dance at the Student Union, sponsored by the Columbian College, following the Fair.

The three finalists for international queen were chosen at intermission by Jane Rosenberger, student activities assistant; Student Council President Roy Barnard, and Mrs. Carlotta Savarese, Garfinkel model. The queen, will be chosen at International Night next Friday.

Intermission

Phyllis Allen and Steve Luke from Dance Production and the Troubadour Trio, Sally Ricci, Betty Kolonia, and Ruth Reagan also entertained the audience during intermission.

Folkemer Speaks Tomorrow At Weekly Chapel Service

• DR. LAWRENCE FOLKEMER,

Minister of the Church of the Reformation and former Instructor in Religion here, will speak tomorrow at Chapel Services in Western Presbyterian Church, 1906 H Street.

Dr. Joseph Sizoo, Professor of Religion and Chapel Director stated that Chapel attendance has never been higher. "The growing interest in chapel, is but a reflection of the growing interest in religion in the student world," he said.

Since Dr. Sizoo came to the University several years ago he has noted a tremendous growth in the Department of Religion. Class enrollments have increased almost 125% in the last 2 or 3 years. It is now possible to major in religion and in the near future work in the Master field will be available.

"The modern university is not complete unless provision is made for religious life," said Dr. Sizoo. He forsees a Building of Religion complete with a chapel and meeting rooms as part of future University planning. Until five years ago services were held in Woodhull House; then they were moved to the H Street Chapel. "By bringing in prominent clergymen from the area," Dr. Sizoo said, "religion ties the University to the community."

He announced the schedule for this semester: March 7, Dr. Sizoo; March 14, Dr. Clifton Olmsted; March 21, Rev. Melvin Nesbitt of Arlington County; March 28 (Holy Week) Dr. Sizoo; April 11, all sororities will attend, Dr. Sizoo; April 18, Dean Koehl, and April 25, Dr. Frederick Reisik. The final Chapel service will be May 16.

Law Day to Include Cases, Lunch, Dance

• THE FOUR FINALISTS of the Van Vleck Case Club will begin the annual Law Day activities Saturday, March 3 with an argument of the "Spendthrift Trust Problem Case."

The Van Vleck Case Club is a unique student court in that it is of appellate jurisdiction, contrary to the usual original jurisdiction of moot courts. The finalists, George Coulter, Maurice E. Barrett, John E. Hogan and Jay Shanklin will present the case at 10:30 in Room 10 of the Law School.

Wilbur K. Miller and E. Barrett Prettyman, justices of the U. S. Court of Appeals, D. C., and Don M. Laramore, justice of the U. S. Court of Claims, D. C., will judge the case.

John M. Harlan, justice of the Supreme Court will be guest of honor at the luncheon at 12:30 in the Willard Hotel. Everyone has been invited. Tickets are $3.

Role of Lawyers

The role of lawyers in the development of peacetime uses of atomic energy will be the subject of a panel discussion at 2:30 in Lisner Auditorium. Eugene M. Zuckert, chairman of the panel, will speak on government programs for the development of atomic energy.

Harold P. Green, attorney, consulting editor of the Commerce Clearing House, and the Atomic Energy Law Reporter, will speak on access to nuclear information and enforcement of security standards as a panel member. Arvin E. Upton, a member of the panel, the Washington partner of LeBeauf, Lamb, Lieby, and Secretary of the Atomic Power Development Association, will discuss the regulations and licensing power of the Atomic Energy Commission services to industry and research organizations.

Also, Clark C. Vogel, a former Assistant General Counsel of the AEC, now Director of the International Affairs Division of the AEC, will speak on tort liability and personal injury caused by the operation of nuclear activity and the provision for adequate insurance coverage.

Ball

The National Law Day Ball, finale of the day's activities, will feature Jack Morton's Orchestra. Price of admission is $3.

Allan Melton, chairman of Law Day, announced that everyone is invited to the activities. Law Day is sponsored by the Student Bar Association alumni and the school administration. It's second year is expected to be a large success.

Don't write home for money—write Lucky Droodles!

The easiest $25 you'll ever make!

A raft of students have already earned $25 in Lucky Strike's Droodle drive. By June, hundreds more will. Better get with it. It's like taking candy from a baby.

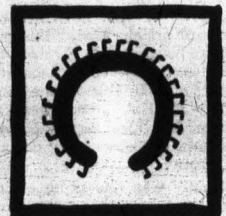

Do as many Droodles as you want. Send them, complete with titles, to Lucky Droodle, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Include your name, address, college, and class—and the name and address of the dealer in your college town from whom you most often buy cigarettes.

If we select your Droodle, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, with your name, in our advertising. And we pay for a lot of Droodles that never appear in print! Talk about easy money! This is it!

ALL-University

• TOMORROW NIGHT brings another All-University spectacular, the Fashion Show, to Lisner Auditorium. Once again the HATCHET feels that the students at the University are failing to take advantage of the host of activities and programs offered them.

The Fashion Show last year was a huge success, and this season's version will have the additional feature of University students.

In a couple of weeks the second of the season's three dramas will be presented at Lisner Auditorium and later the All-U Follies and the Spring Outing. These events that are offered for the community and the University as a whole are well spaced throughout the year to give a lift to the ordinary private and small functions and give the students a chance to mix and appreciate the talent of their own school.

It may not be common knowledge that all universities do not provide programs of this nature for their students. We at the University are fortunate to have the opportunity to participate as a university in these activities.

Obviously the success of these University functions depends on whole-hearted and complete support, for only by everyone going out and taking advantage of the series can the coordinators of the functions judge their success and plan improvements.

So, let's make the Fashion Show, Drama and Spring Outing REAL All-University functions.

Letter To The Editors

Dear Editors:

In the edition of the HATCHET of February 14th, 1956, I read an article entitled "Gay, Costumed Students Make Merry at Gay Mardi Gras Ball." This article appeared to be the only coverage of the Winter Weekend Festivities. When this event was being publicized the Saturday night fraternity parties were included in the schedule, but there was no mention whatsoever of this in the above mentioned article. Could this possibly be because S.A.E. won the trophy for the best decorated party room? If this is the case, not only has S.A.E. been dealt an injustice, but also Sigma Kappa, the winner of the sorority decoration trophy.

Not only was one piece of important news omitted completely, but another item of equal importance received one whole paragraph and even a large front page picture. This latter article concerned a rival fraternity. This indicated to me the editorial staff of the HATCHET is sadly lacking in journalistic ethics and ability. This is only a confirmation of a condition which I have thought existed ever since I entered George Washington a year ago and started reading the HATCHET.

The above views are my own personal beliefs and do not necessarily reflect the views of the S.A.E. chapter as a whole. I merely offer it as what I believe to be a valid complaint.

Sincerely yours,
Jack R. Hotaling

EDITORS' NOTE

That Mr. Hotaling has a legitimate complaint in reminding the HATCHET that it had overlooked an interesting and important bit of news, we do not deny. The HATCHET, as any other activity or newspaper, is guilty of oversight and error on occasion. It is something we try to avoid, and something we strive to correct when realized.

Because of this, we are sorry that Mr. Hotaling had to go on to resort to childish and reckless charges against the HATCHET editorial staff's honesty.

This is a wild and slightly unbalanced charge which has no basis in fact. We wonder if Mr. Hotaling realizes that the Board of Editors of the HATCHET is made up of four persons who are members of four different Greek organizations? Members of practically every Greek organization on campus and an almost equal member of independents have served, and are serving, on the HATCHET in various capacities.

And we wonder if Mr. Hotaling knows that part of journalistic ethics and ability is the reporting of the crowning of various kings and queens all year long and that pictures to accompany such stories are one of the mainstays of reporting?

The story about the crowning of the King of the Mardi Gras was the big event of the Weekend and had been so planned for months. Its importance was further increased when Ann Williams agreed to crown him.

The HATCHET is always under fire from one group or another, in one form or another, and has been for years. Any newspaper is. Often the complaints are justified, but more often not. Never before, however, have we been accused of slanting the news.

We wish that Mr. Hotaling had not felt it necessary to impugn our integrity. We feel that it only makes him appear foolish.

As to his notification about our oversight in not running the announcement of the House Decoration winners, we are happy that he has brought this to our attention.

Director Will Remember Psych Class

by Elva Schroebe

• HALF AN HOUR after the Fashion Show starts tomorrow night a petite, brown haired girl will slip into the back row. Barbara Wolin will be late because of class, but she already knows what will happen—she planned it.

Quiet, efficient Barbara says that planning the show was "a lot of fun, but I'll be relieved when it's over." Barbara had never worked on anything like a fashion show before she petitioned the Student Council for this job; but, she says, "it just appealed to me."

One of the few native Washingtonians in Washington, Barbara went to Coolidge High School and then "just naturally came down to G. W. I don't know exactly why, but I'm glad I came. I feel I belong. I know so many people."

Scholarship Holder

She won an Eugene and Agnes Meyer scholarship when she was a freshman, held that for two years and is now on the Hazelton scholarship. However, her academic career hasn't always been so rosy. "When I took my first exam," she relates, "I was so scared that I skipped two sections!"

Barbara says her biggest thrill at the University came last May Day when she was tapped for Mortar Board. Last summer she went as representative of the University's chapter to a triennial national Mortar Board Convention at Michigan State.

This semester most of Barbara's time is taken up by her practice teaching out in Chevy Chase, but she's still active on Mortar Board, and, as Tassels advisor, she's very busy preparing for the forthcoming initiation.

First vice-president of Big Sis, Barbara has worked on a Student Handbook Committee, been in Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship holders' honorary, Hillel and the Dance Production Groups. "I've always held myself to about two or three activities a semester," she says, "and tried to do a really good job in them." Her "good jobs" were recently recognized by Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Remembers Psych Class

One of her fondest memories of her freshman year is her psychology class. That's the one in which she took her first exam (at least part of it), and that's also the one in which she met Dick Sincoff. Their wedding date is set for June 10, soon after she and Dick graduate.

Foggy Bottom

by Hester Heale

• SALUD, CHEERS, SKOAL... and here's to more and more ~~happy~~ Ball weekends in the future! The fun which prevailed at last Saturday's dance will long live in our hearts, right? Right!

Chi Omega announces the engagement of new president Carolyn Cronin to Jim Posey, formerly pledged to Sigma Nu, but now working on Capitol Hill.

Lanny Ormsley was named outstanding pledge at the Delt initiation ceremonies Friday night. After receiving 13 new actives, the brothers adjourned to the Club Nightengale in Alexandria for celebration purposes. Dances (with or without music) were led by Mike Tym and DG Bunny Miller. Among those present were several new Delt pledges: Bob Moore, Frank Narr, Dave Ettinger and Tom Lindsey.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Kappa Sig at a coke feast on Monday night, which included refreshments and a songfest. Still in the party mood on Tuesday, the Kappa's asked the Chi O's to their rooms for lunch. Both groups attended en masse and had a gay time drinking cokes, eating cookies and socializing.

Liz de Ford, ADPI, is engaged to Bill McNeill, who is inconveniently living in New York at present. His weekends are spent traveling between here and Manhattan.

DG Mary Ann Alderson was recently pinned to Delt president Bill Medina.

This is initiation time for everybody—lots of banquets, parties formal dances, and all sorts of awards and celebrations are going on. The AEP's are not to be overlooked in that department either. They held a formal dance after the initiation of the fall pledge class, and presented the outstanding pledge award to Alan Munster. New AEP pledges are Saul Liebowitz and Arthur Gorrin. And Jerry Reinsdorf announces that Marty Rifkin has stopped smoking.

Get out your pencils and pens, kiddies! There is something in store for you, and you don't want to be caught unprepared, now do you? The Big Surprise will be announced next week, so be waiting for it. Forewarned is forearmed, a word to the wise, posterity will remember you, leave your name

Radio, History, Travel Claim Dean Kayser

by Susan LeFavour

• MANY STUDENTS HAVE a nodding acquaintance with Dean Elmer L. Kayser because of his European or Current History classes. But how many know the other side of this professor who has been teaching at the University for nearly 40 years?

A native of Georgetown, he received his B.A. from the University in 1917, began as an instructor in Ancient History and went on to earn his Master's degree here and his PhD at Columbia.

Dean Kayser was secretary of the University from 1918 to 1929 and now is Dean of the Division of University Students. In addition to his European History courses, he also teaches a two-year study in Thought and Culture in the Western World, one that he introduced to the University curriculum.

Strangely enough he has never taught a course in American History.

Favorite Is Brouges

His travels have included most of the United States and Europe. The city of Brouges in Brussels is his favorite because it still maintains a flavor of a late medieval city to a greater degree than most cities.

Active in the Alumni Association and serving as its president, Dean Kayser is also a member of the Secretary of the Navy's Advisory Committee on Naval History, an editor of WORLD AFFAIRS and a director of the American Peace Society. He has held many offices in the American Historical Association and is on the boards of Mount Vernon Seminary, National Cathedral School for Girls and the nursing schools of St. Elizabeth's and Emergency Hospitals. Dean Kayser is also lay chairman of the Committee for the Improvement of Justice in the District of Columbia, sponsored by the American Bar Association, chairman of the Division of College Work for the Episcopal Diocese of Washington and a vestryman at St. Alban's.

Radio Commentator

In 1942 and during the early days of the second World War Dean Kayser was a radio commentator for several radio networks. He did a special series on Munich for WRC and the Washington STAR, a foreign affairs daily on WOL and a weekly for WTOP.

When asked for his views on journalism's value in historical studies he answered that the historian is the screening machinery for gathering the testimony of the journalist and making comparisons and critical observations. If he had time for restudy of a certain period of history he said he would like to devote it to the beginnings of the Industrial Revolution.

Younger Students

About the changes in college students over the past 40 years, Dean Kayser has this to say, "Students haven't changed much, except that they're coming to college much younger now." And he thinks that historians need not be concerned with the growing popularity of scientific studies in preference to the classics. He sees a parallel to similar changes of interests in the study of Humanism in the 14th and 15th centuries.

What does Dean Kayser do with his spare time? When he does have some, it's most likely spent in reading—historical studies, naturally. But playing with his grandson is also one of his favorite pastimes. "Wonder what kind of stories his grandfather tells? Bet they're not from storybooks."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Cast Gives Promise For Good Portrayals

• IF YOU DON'T stop fighting, you won't play that scene, I'll just come out and narrate it to the audience," said the director.

The scene was replayed and the central character broke up the cast and technicians, who are used to the impact of "All My Sons" second act crisis by now. The director is Julian Barry and while, after only three weeks' rehearsal, there is still difficulty with lines and action, he is getting promising performances from his cast.

A Strong Play

The play is a strong one, requiring good portrayals. The cast is well-knit. As they move about in the foundations of the outdoor set, they are getting the feel of Arthur Miller's play. By March 9, when the show opens in Lisner Auditorium, it should really be something to see.

Mr. Barry came down from New York at the beginning of the semester to direct the University Drama Production Group's spring play. He began directing his original plays in college at Emerson in Boston. He has also had extensive acting experience with two seasons in the Boston Classical Theater, seven seasons of stock, about ten off-Broadway shows, work with Philadelphia's Playhouse in the Park, and innumerable television shows to his credit. "Barry," as those connected with "All My Sons" call him, has included film and recording work in his acting experience. He has also directed summer stock.

'Play the Scene'

One of Barry's theories of acting is that "you don't have to move around, you just play the scene." In another ten days when the public gets to see the finished product, his actors will be doing just that—and we can hardly wait.

Council Capers

by Doris Rosenberg

• THE SELECTION of a new Advocate and School of Government representative was the main item of business at Thursday night's Student Council meeting. AEPF Proxy Jerry Reinsdorf was chosen from six petitioners for the office of Student Council Advocate, while Charles Bechtel was appointed the new School of Government representative. As Advocate, Mr. Reinsdorf will conduct the spring election, at which next year's Council members will be chosen.

Fashion Show

Sally Ricci, Program Director, reminded the Council that the University Fashion Show will be held tomorrow evening, February 29, in Lisner Auditorium at 8:30. Clothes for the girls will be from the Casual Corner, and men's styles will be furnished by The Mode. Admission is free with a Combo and only 50c without one. It promises to be a very enjoyable evening, and "everyone should go," Miss Ricci added.

An announcement was also made of the forthcoming International Night. Scheduled for this Friday night at 8:30 in Lisner Auditorium, it should "prove to be a very good night of entertainment," Miss Ricci said enthusiastically.

Last Pep Rally

Joan Duke Gates, Activities Director, announced that the last Pep Rally of the season will be held this afternoon at 12:30. The Pep Rally will be a preliminary to tonight's home game with Georgetown University. Mrs. Gates also reported that plans are getting under way for the 1956

May Day, which is scheduled for May 4.

The next meeting of the Student Council will be held Wednesday, March 7, when new Campus Combo co-chairman for the coming year will be selected. The deadline for petitions for these positions has been extended to Tuesday, March 6.

Everybody was appropriately tattered and torn to indicate nautical misfortune, and Cece Le Sturgeon, Queen of the Ball, reigned over the evening. And let me mention that Bruce Mencher's winning beard was absolutely the most.

Brains, Beauty Mix in Tassels; Trains Future Campus Leaders

by Doris Rosenberg

• IF YOU ARE under the impression that brains and beauty are seldom found together, chances are that you're not as well acquainted with Tassels—and Tassels members—as you should be. For Tassels, sophomore women's honorary, boasts quite a record in the field of beauty as well as brains.

In addition to seeing its members participate in numerous activities while maintaining high marks at the same time, Tassels has been contributing more than an average share of beauty contest candidates lately. For example seven Tassels girls—just about one-fourth of the entire roster—were nominees for the title of 1955 Homecoming Queen, and one of these made the finals. The finalist, Ann Bageant, was also entered in the recent Apple Blossom Princess Contest, where she was chosen as one of the two runners-up. And just last week two Tassels girls were selected to model in the forthcoming University Fashion Show.

Another outdated myth that Tassels explodes is the one which insists good marks and extra-curricular activities don't mix. A quick look at the Q. P. I. and list of activities of Tassels President Mary Hoffman should put an end to this mistaken idea!

Roaring Twenties Flapper

With the terrific over-all of 3.86, Mary still finds time to carry a heavy list of activities. She is HATCHET office manager, Treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta, Alpha Theta Nu Recording Secretary and member of Big Sis, International Students Society, Flying Sponsors, and the Angel Flight.

Under Mary's inspiring leadership, Tassels has also been building an impressive list of activities. In the short space of one semester, Tassels has helped to publicize such events as Winter Weekend, drama ("The Curious Savage"), Mortar's Last Lecture Series and the Pillrollers' Ball. At present the girls are doing publicity for the Fashion Show, scheduled for February 29, and International Night, which will be held at Lisner Auditorium on March 2. International Night, the tenth event in the 1955-56 Colonial Program Series, will be "a new international variety show, with singing, dancing and music characteristic of foreign countries and the United States," Mary explained enthusiastically.

Busy Social Side

Tassels has also been busy on the social side. Just last week its members gave a faculty tea for their favorite professors. Girls from Tassels served as hostesses at the recent Varsity Drag, too.

However, Tassels serves an even bigger purpose than the readily obvious ones listed above. Perhaps its most important purpose, according to its president, is that Tassels affords "a training geared for potential campus leaders, teaching them to work together and to run an organization."

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that small and spongy as I am, anybody who ever says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound hiding!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fount of wisdom, to trail their fingers in the main currents of American thought. But if, by chance, while a girl is engaged in these lofty pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband? A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing—bar none—in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Captain McCutchen, what good is he if he just lays around all day accumulating bedsores?

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure that he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to beguile you with his wit and charm, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, palpate his thorax, rap his patella, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails to pass these few basic tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be shunned. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these merry pranks, laugh gaily and shout "April Fool!" If he replies, "But this is November 28," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and thank your lucky stars you found out in time.

But if he laughs silverly and calls you "Little minx!" then put him to the next test: Find out whether he is gentle.

The easiest, quickest way to ascertain his gentleness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it clement? Is it humane? Is it balm to the palate? Does it minister tenderly to the taste-buds? Does it coddle the nerve-ends? Is it the perfect accompaniment to today's easier, breezier living? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and full of dulcet pleasure from cock-crow till the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Philip Morris?

If Philip Morris it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is gentle as a summer breeze, gentle as a mother's kiss, gentle to his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is gentle and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, only one thing remains: namely, to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is very simple. Just enroll him in Engineering.

©Max Shulman, 1954

The makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, would like to suggest another pleasant and gentle life's companion: Philip Morris, of course!

Girls Sponsor Panhel Affairs

• THE PANEHELLENIC Sing and Prom will highlight the University's first Panhellenic Weekend, March 16 and 17.

March 16 in Lisner Auditorium, eleven sorority groups will compete in the Sing for first, second and third place trophies. Admission to the Sing, which is a part of the Colonial Program Series, is free.

Announcement and presentation of women's scholarship awards will be a feature of the program. The pledge class and the active chapter with the highest academic average for the fall semester will receive cups. Individual awards will go to the four senior women with the highest over-all averages in their first three years. Scholarship keys will reward the top upperclass pledge and the top freshman pledge.

Jack Morton's orchestra will play from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Panhel Prom March 17 in the Grand Ballroom of the Madison Arms Hotel.

Editor Lectures On Integration

• "THE PROBLEMS OF integration are just beginning," said Dr. John G. Bowen, editor of Catholic Men, at the Newman Club meeting last Tuesday.

Dr. Bowen said it will a long time before the many complications arising from the long tradition of segregation in the South are solved. Continuing the 2-part lecture he began the week before, Dr. Bowen said that the major area of conflict lies in the deep seated fear that the Negro will rise to control the South.

Stating that it is a problem of numbers, i.e., the percentage of colored people over the white in the South, Dr. Bowen went on to say that if integration is effected, the South believes that day-to-day contact in the schools will bring about social equality and mixed marriages.

"What we must realize is that segregation is as old as the South," he emphasized.

Dr. Bowen clarified the Catholic position that mixed marriage, per se is not against any teachings of the Church.

Poll Reveals Interest In Council Elections

by Betsy Evans

• QUESTION: "What can be done to increase the small percentage of voters in Student Council elections?"

Mike Brady: Many people don't vote because they don't have their activity books with them at the time of voting. Maybe just checking off names on file cards from the activities office would solve this problem.

Ronald H. Dettelbaum: Approximately 25% of the students at the University are night students. By informing these students of the Jon Florian: The campaign should be lengthened to give the large independent student group a chance to familiarize themselves with the candidates. An organized independent party could easily defeat the Greek candidate, too often a product of back room petty politicking.

Richard Giesler: Set up a dual party system to arouse more student interest through the unusual campaigning which would arise.

Joe Hlase: I believe that the voting and campaigning should be different. Campaigning all day (instead of just between classes) would create more interest and encourage more people to vote. An ideal schedule would be: Monday: all speeches; Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday: campaigning and voting all day, with booths closing Thursday at 9 p.m.; results announced at May Day Friday night.

Jean Jablonsky: Increase election publicity.

Terry Root: Familiarize the students with the Student Council in a serious manner and as early as possible before the havoc of campaigning begins.

Sally Ricci: I suggest HATCHET coverage starting one month prior to elections, urging votes by use of editorials. At least two voting booths to facilitate voting, and speeches of candidates limited to three minutes—if possible, presented in the union. Also, if possible, have classes called off and urge students to attend the assembly.

Rosa Wiener: I suggest greater publicity: tags with "VOTE" on them to be worn by the student body; a HATCHET column, such as "The Informers," to arouse interest; banners in front of the Union . . . There should be a list of candidates on the board in front of the Union as they petition.

Beards

• PHI ALPHA Bruce Mencher reigned for the second straight year as King of the Shipwreck Ball Saturday by winning the annual PIKA beard growing contest. His two runners-up were AEPF Phil Berger and SPE Bob Hoeber. Queen of the ball was Cece Le Sturgeon who reigned with a court of five.

Matmen Meet Friday; Sharpshoots Defeat Drexel

by Chis McAvoy

• THERE WILL be action aplenty in the gnasium this Friday night as wrestling takes over the intramural spotlight. Matches will start promptly at 8 p.m., with two mats in readiness to accommodate the grapplers. Four men are necessary to qualify for team entry points, and the names of all those wrestling should be turned into the Intramural office by Wednesday.

A physical "clearance" from the Student Health Office is required before anyone is allowed to grunt OR groan. The office in Building P will be open on Wednesday and Thursday from 9-12 noon. The Physical Education Department will match all those who have passed the physical on the basis of height, weight, and athletic ability. Pairings are made as carefully as possible.

Sigs Win League

The mural basketball season is nearing the mop-up stage with Saturday leagues A and B completing their schedule and Sunday leagues C and D due to wind up this Sunday. League E's champion is Sigma Chi who won a postponed game with Kappa Alpha by LEAGUE C: In the game of the day PIKA took the measure of last year's champion Phi Alpha squad 36 to 32. Bob McClindon showed a measure of the form that made him an All-Metropolitan choice while at St. John's as he played a stellar floor game and hit for 17 points on a sparkling variety of shots. Teammate Warren Lytle formed the second half of PIKA's scoring punch by pouring 13 points through the nets.

Contest

• THE HATCHET and the LIGGETT and MYERS Tobacco Company representative-on-campus Ronnie West are sponsoring the following basketball contest. Any student of the University may submit as many entries as he wishes. All entries must be submitted on the HATCHET blank and placed in the contest box in the Student Union Lobby by THURSDAY 5 p.m.

Each entrant should pick the winner of the first tournament game and should note in the appropriate blanks how many points that each of the four seniors will score. The winner will be judged on the game and the closeness of the actual points scored by the players.

The first prize will consist of two cartons of L&M cigarettes and the second prize winner will receive one carton.

Sharpshoots Defeat Drexel

• THE GIRL'S RIFLE team evened up an eight year series with Drexel Institute last Saturday by defeating Tech 1337 to 1322.

The girls, firing for the first time this year a three position match, increased their slim lead of 579 to 578 in the prone position, in the kneeling and standing divisions to defeat last year's collegiate champs.

Helen Skopie was once again high scorer for the girls with a 261 out of a possible 300 total in the three positions. Betty Baker shot a 258, Verdell Algee fired a 257, Regina Gorski hit for a 241 and Ethel Tucker rounded out the scoring with a 219.

In the prone position four girls were tied for the lead. Helen Skopie fired 97, as did Marilyn Greer, Pat Kirkland and Regina Gorski. Verdell Algee and Ethel Tucker shot 96's.

The three high girls in the kneeling position were Betty Baker, 88; Regina Gorski, 85, and Verdell Algee, 84. The top three in the standing position were Helen Skopie, 83; Betty Baker, 77, and Verdell Algee, 77.

The Phi Alphans remained within reach until the final buzzer by constantly breaking up plays that would have given PIKA a commanding lead. Al Mason, former Wilson High School star, paced the Phi Alphs with 17 points, as he and his teammates were forced to take most of their shots from outside the foul circle in a vain attempt to break the PIKA zone defense. The inability of the losers to score consistently on their long shots proved to be their undoing as Dibbs and Keen controlled the backboard for PIKA.

LEAGUE D: AEPI stunned the Delts with a startling 36 to 32 victory. It was a team effort all the way for the AEPI's as Herb Rappaport scored 11 points and Jesse Reuben added 8. Roger Turner was the game's high scorer with 18 in a losing cause for DTD.

Another Close One

Hard luck TEP, who has lost their last two games by a total of three points, dropped another squeaker to the Alphans 24 to 23. TEP, who had a 16-10 lead at half time, could not cope with the second half rush of the Alphans which netted 14 points. Byron was high man for the winners with 11 points while Roslyn had 6 for TEP.

In the remaining games in League D the Jerslans laced Sigma Nu 57-30 paced by Joe Boland's 14 points and Delta Theta Phi nosed out Phi Sig 30-28 with Kline setting the scoring pace for the victors with 12 points.

• ALTHOUGH WE LOSE a number of seniors, George Washington next season just might have a better team than expected. Bill Telasky, who has been a starter since the opening, will carry over this season's experience to play with several varsity returnees and a few J. V. standouts.

Balancing the freshman Telasky at the other guard position will probably be Ardie Baker or Ron Matalavage. Baker is extremely quick and an outside man in the Klein manner. Though lacking the experience in floor leadership that Klein has, little Ardie figures to be a starter or at worst an alternate. A product of Washington's Coolidge High, Baker ought to team with Telasky and Matalavage to give G. W. three of the fastest guards in the League.

Matalavage wasn't used until late in the season but revealed his speed and poise in the last few games and figures to earn an important role next winter.

Coach Reinhart can also look to John Jolly as his probable starting center. The 6'6" Indiana youngster has come on like the Super Chief in the last couple of weeks and shows excellent development.

From the varsity squad will also be Bob Goodwin and Dick Young, and from the J. V.'s Reinhart will be able to juggle Ron Dearden, Ken Erickson, Dick Carroll, and Bob Keen. Freshmen Sam Knisley and Bob McDonald also may figure in the plans.

Next season's team will not have the experience that Colonial teams have had in recent years, and it won't have Big Joe. But we shouldn't worry too much if Reinhart comes up with workable material. At this early date I don't feel next year's club will be as good as this one.

Whatever chances for success that next year's team may have, before it can pat itself on the back, it wants to be sure it can call on some solid outside shooting, rebounding, speed, and above all alertness. Watch Jolly at center in his inside and close-in shooting and in his rebounding, and if Telasky can increase his accuracy on the long shots, he'll be dangerous. Dearden has quite an eye around the key, the height of Erickson, Jolly, and Keen—all six-and-a-half feet high—should give backboard control.

Goodwin is a fast, eager player with a couple of years on the varsity, and Young was a sparingly used varsity member in his first year at George Washington.

Editor Ponders Rule Barring Buff Seniors

by Paul Welch

• THE WINNER OF the Southern Conference Tournament will immediately have one foot in the grave when it comes playing time in the NCAA tournament in New York in about two weeks.

It doesn't matter which team wins it because every one of them is affected by one rule of which the National Collegiate Athletic Association disapproves. In the Southern Conference the freshmen are eligible to play on varsity teams. NCAA has ruled that any player who has played varsity ball for more than three years shall be declared ineligible for post-season tournament play.

Let's take a look at the Colonials. Last year they were faced with the same situation when Buzzy Ciriello and Ed Catino were declared ineligible. However the ruling was never put into effect as the Colonials lost in the finals to West Virginia. Once again at this time the problem is prevalent with the Colonials. Captain Joe Holup, Joe Petcavich and Jay Manning are ineligible. The Colonials will lose three of their first six men via this rule.

There are two things the Colonials can do with this rule. The first is to make a habit of playing freshmen, which the coach is doing now, or an alternative is to hold out the player for a year. I asked Coach Bill Reinhart whether he would sit a man out for the season or would he continue to play freshmen. He answered that it would be foolish to hold out a freshman ball player (like Bill Telasky) if he thought that the man could help the team during the regular schedule. "To hold a boy out of 25 games for just that one ball game in four years would be foolish. You have to win that last ball game for the championship and if I could prophesy what type of a team we will have in four years, I don't think that I would be coaching."

Help Teams

One main reason for letting freshmen play is to help all the teams in the league. A lot of teams cannot afford to hold men out for a year and still field a good team. The Colonials are in the Southern Conference and their main goal is to win the championship. The team can't afford to hold out good men for the chance of playing in the NCAA tournament and as a result lose the championship.

The freshmen rule really helps the powerhouses of North Carolina State and Kentucky as they have been able to get continually good talent and have been able to hold out good men. G. W. is not the only one that will be hurt. West Virginia will lose three men, Richmond will lose about four of their starting seven. Duke will lose two of their mainstays, Mayer and Belmont while Wake Forest will lose Lefty Davis. The problem is not altogether within the Southern Conference. The Atlantic Coast Conference will be up against the same thing. Even the fabulous San Francisco team will lose K. C. Jones, their star playmaker.

Change Needed

The question to be asked next then is why doesn't NCAA change the ruling. If the conference allows freshmen to play, why won't the NCAA recognize that ruling and let the Conference be able to play a representative team. No matter who wins next Saturday, the team will not be as good as it was during the regular season.

Certainly all the schools in the Southern Conference must agree with the ruling or else they would have voted the ruling down. Not one team this season is playing without freshmen on the team.

This situation ties in with the recent ruling of Wes Santee and his amateur status. It's quite obvious that some of the present NCAA rules are a little too theoretical and not as they should be—realistic. We have certain problems and have tried to solve some of them, and instead of a helping hand, we get slapped in the face. The AAU officials gave Santee that money knowing that it probably was excessive. What is a person supposed to do in his place? Say "Here this is too much, please take it back." Instead of making him pay the excess back, the AAU slaps a lifelong suspension on him in all its track meets.

More Help

Instead of trying to be more realistic in recognizing the rules of the different conferences, the NCAA just stamps its foot down and says men that have played on varsity for four years are ineligible. I think that it hurts their tournament more than anything. NCAA doesn't try to solve all the different problems in the various sections of the country. They leave it up to the conferences themselves. Why not try to give the conferences some help? As a result of the present ruling, you will find teams, such as G. W. or West Virginia or Richmond, that will have to hold out some of their good ball players.

Will the answer to this problem have to be dropped back into the different conferences again? The only answer is, if NCAA won't change, is to make freshmen ineligible. That will result in pushing the weaker schools farther down and building the stronger ones up.

Contest

• THE HATCHET and the PHILIP MORRIS representative-on-campus Ernest Auerbach are sponsoring the following basketball contest. Any student of the University may submit as many entries as he wishes. All entries must be submitted on the HATCHET blank and placed in the contest box in the Student Union Lobby by THURSDAY 5 p.m.

Each entrant should pick the winner of the Southern Conference tournament and should note the number of points that the winning team will score in the three games. The entrant should also pick the number of points that Captain Holup will score in the tournament. The winner will be judged on the closeness to total points scored by the winning team and also the closeness to Captain Holup's actual scoring.

The first prize winner will consist of two cartons of either Philip Morris or Marlboro cigarettes and the second place prize will be one carton of either cigarette.

• THE TENNIS TEAM starts practice this Friday with only two lettermen, Herb Rappaport and Bill Russell returning from last year's injury-ridden squad.

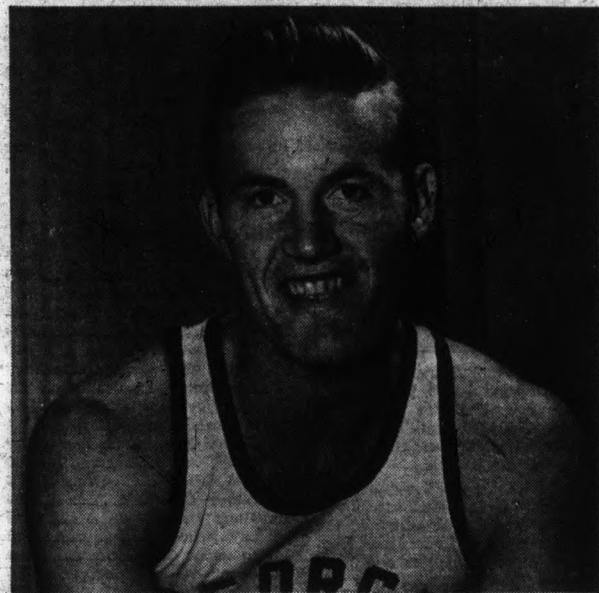

Coached once again by Bill Shreve, the team will start practicing on hard courts for the first few weeks and then switch over to clay courts before their first

Four Seniors Play Last Home Game

by Dick Sincoff

• GEORGE WASHINGTON goes against the Georgetown Hoyas tonight at Uline Arena in the wrap-up game of the Colonials' regular season. For the seniors it is their final college game before the home crowd, and for Joe Holup in particular it is the end of an era in the history of Buff basketball. The Colonials then move to Richmond on Thursday for the start of the three-day Southern Conference championship tournament.

Coach Bill Reinhart's short

FOUR YEARS AGO at Uline Arena, Joe Holup began his career with the Colonials by scoring 19 points in a winning effort against William and Mary. Tonight Holup, who hit for seven of eight shots in the first half of that game, plays before a home crowd for the last time, against arch-rival Georgetown. The soft-spoken senior from Swoyersville, Pa., has gone on to become the most accurate shot in the history of college basketball, as well as a top rebounder and team man. This will be his last effort at Uline's, always his favorite court.

match with the William & Mary team March 30.

At present the team has four freshmen players that Coach Shreve indicated will make up the nucleus with the two lettermen. Joe Augustine and Saul Leibowitz were both outstanding high school players in the Norfolk area. Saul won the Virginia State Junior championship. Joe and Saul were on the same team and Joe played the No. 1 spot. Saul No. 2. Joe was at camp during the championships and could not compete.

Two other promising freshmen are Jack Tarr, an outstanding junior player from Louisville, Kentucky, and Neil Walsh, also a promising player in the New England Junior league.

The team, playing six singles and three doubles, will meet perhaps the best team in the Southern Conference this year, William & Mary March 30. William & Mary has all of their last year's team returning. After playing at Williamsburg Friday, the Colonial netters will travel to Wake Forest Saturday, March 31.

The next week the team will play two home matches, one with Brown and the other with Colgate. That Saturday the Colonials will meet the Hoyas there.

Coach Shreve indicated that anyone interested in coming out for the squad who has had some tennis experience should sign up in the Athletic Office.

• THE RIFLE TEAM shot their way to victory last Friday by defeating Washington & Lee University by a 1371 to 1327 score at Corcoran Hall.

The high scorer for the Buff was once again Paul Nordquist who shot 286 out of a possible 300. Paul has been top man in all of the rifle team's matches so far this year.

• THE ROWING CLUB stepped up their beat by chopping the waves of the Potomac in their sixteen man barge several times this past week.

At the meeting Friday, Bob Moore was elected President, Chris McAvoy was elected Vice President and Hal Yablon Secretary-Treasurer.

• THE SAILING CLUB also tested the muddy waters of the Potomac River Sunday in their weekly practice session in anticipation of the Interclub meet to be held Sunday, March 25.

Helen Rope hopes that anyone interested in Sailing, whether they have had any previous experience or not should contact her at Jackson 8-0087 or come to the weekly meeting held Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Union Annex.

Visitation Loses To Girl Cagers

• THE GIRL'S VARSITY basketball team defeated Georgetown Visitation last Thursday at Georgetown by a 35 to 29 score.

Ethel Tucker sparked the win with a 17 point performance as the high scoring Buffites, who had previously been averaging about 50 points per game, found the Georgetown zone hard to penetrate.

Coached by Miss Stahlings, the girls took the lead at the start of the game and held onto it and went off the court at half with just a one point lead.

The starting forwards for the Buffites were Ethel Tucker, Carol Hesse, Marilyn Greer and Nancy Bealle. Jo Peters, Georgine Winslett, Carol Dalton and Margaret Rohling were the starting guards.

The squad will play host to Trinity College in two games this Wednesday night at the Tin Tabernacle.

pants set will be favored to take their sixth straight win over the Hoyas as seniors Joe Holup, George Klein, Joe Petcavich, and Jay Manning bow out. Holup took the floor in 1952 as a freshman youngster from Swoyersville, Pa. As a frosh, Joe made the All-Conference first team, beating out the great all-time high scorer of the University of Maryland, Gene Shue. Holup has been on the league all-star team every year since.

As one of the highest scorers in the annals of college basketball Joe is a member of the exclusive 2000-Point Club, holds the school record for scoring for career, for single game, and for a season. He also is the most accurate shooter in college history and leads the Nation in rebounding.

Klein Leaves

Klein, the sparky floor leader, has established himself as one of the best guards George Washington has ever had, while being the indispensable general of the Colonials' offenses and defenses. The 5' 10" Education Major from Far Rockaway, N. Y., winds up a popular career in the area.

The third regular starter and long-time teammate of Klein and Holup, Joe Petcavich will close an one-and-off stretch at G. W., that saw him brilliantly lead the Colonials in many games, while raking in rebounds like he had a lease on the ball.

Like Pet, Manning has been hot and cold, and though never consistently playing to his potential, he has tucked away a number of outstanding ball games in his Colonial days.

On Thursday George Washington opens its bid to recover the Conference title held by West Virginia. Top-seeded by virtue of their early triumph over the Mountaineers, the Buff and WVU are expected to win their preliminary games and meet for the third straight year in the title game.

Meet W&L

In the eight-team tourney G. W. meets eighth place Washington and Lee, and West Virginia plays Davidson. The Colonials are favored to quash the Generals for the 13th time in succession since 1949. Barring upsets, it should be Holup vs. Hundley again on Saturday night.

In two non-Conference matches last week, the Buff were bombed by Duke at Durham, N. C., and pulled out a squeaker over Georgetown.

The Blue Devils, teaming up on Big Joe, held him to one of his lowest totals of the season—13 points—and sped to a 90-71 victory Saturday night. The lead bandied about for most of the first half, with Duke holding a close 40-36 lead at intermission. G. W. pulled to within a point right after halftime, but Duke spurred and moved to 56-40 advantage and won going away.

Almost Upset

Georgetown's upstart Hoyas threatened to upset the Colonials before G. W. slipped through a 70-67 win in overtime at McDonough Gym a week ago. Holup apparently had sewn it up with four points within the last two minutes to put the Buff ahead, 61-59. With 35 seconds to go Jay Manning added a foul and with 13 seconds left G. W. looked safe. But G. U.'s Ken Fichette dropped in a foul goal and Matt White laid up a goal and Georgetown had a 62-62 tie. Freshman Bill Telasky led the overtime parade with five points, and the Buff hung on to win.
